Investor Update

Shaping the Future of Banking

We're proud to share with you the 2025 Huntington Colleagues' Good Government Fund (HBI-PAC) Member Impact Report, a reflection of the powerful role your support plays in shaping our collective voice in the political process. History shows any political candidate can be pro-banking; recognizing that our shared customers and constituents benefit when communities thrive.

Dear Colleague,

Whether you are a current member or considering adding your name as a member for the first time, thank you for your leadership in looking out for our stakeholders and your thoughtful review of this investor update. Together, we have an opportunity to make our voices heard in shaping the complex political landscape impacting the future of our business.

As Huntington continues to expand our reach and serve new markets, it is important that we tell our unique Huntington story and highlight the positive impact we are having on our customers and communities. It is critical that our elected leaders know—and understand—the Purpose-driven, people-centered work Huntington colleagues accomplish every day.

Anchored in our Purpose, participating in HBI-PAC is a nonpartisan way for colleagues to get involved in the political process in alignment with our business values. As political and policy debates take place in Washington, D.C., and in statehouses across our footprint, HBI-PAC empowers colleagues to unite and amplifies our ability to support the election of candidates across the partisan spectrum who recognize the critical role banks play in driving economic growth and sustainable prosperity in our markets.

Over time, Huntington has earned our reputation as a committed civic leader and trusted partner with political officials at all levels of government who are willing to listen and be educated on the banking issues that impact the lives of those we are privileged to represent. Colleague members from across the bank, standing together, have supported electing these leaders, shaping our ability to grow and serve through election cycles, since 1983.

Today, HBI-PAC members have invested to form one of the top 10 bank PACs in the nation.

Thank you for your continued support of HBI-PAC and for the work you do every day to make Huntington successful. If you haven't already, we hope that you will choose to join us.

Investor Update: How Our Combined Dollars Make a Difference

Strong member commitment to HBI-PAC provides the resources necessary to make strategic contributions to candidates and incumbent elected officials—on both sides of the partisan aisle—who recognize the role regional banks and the financial services industry play in supporting customers and communities in their hometowns and across the nation.

Huntington Franchise State Partisan Makeup

HBI-PAC has a track record of balanced contributions that mirror the diversity of our footprint. Huntington operates across a diverse partisan footprint, with Congress and some footprint statehouses having historically close, divided margins of control. Looking at the makeup of our franchise states, as the political pendulum swings through election cycles, it is prudent that HBI-PAC contributions remain consistently bipartisan and aligned to candidates who know and back our industry.

Commonly Asked Questions About Joining HBI-PAC

What are PACs?

“PACs,” or political action committees, are a legal and transparent way to pool voluntary contributions from eligible individuals to support candidates with one powerful voice.

Corporations are prohibited from directly contributing to federal candidates – but they may operate a PAC. These committees are strictly regulated by the Federal Elections Commission and only allow for voluntary, individual contributions under stringent guidelines for participation. A PAC has power in numbers. It gives a company a voice through a meaningful show of employee engagement.

Am I required to participate?

No. Participation in HBI-PAC is completely voluntary and open to all salaried executive and administrative personnel with policymaking, managerial, professional, or supervisory responsibilities who are U.S. citizens or permanent resident aliens (i.e., ‘Green Card’ holders residing in the U.S.). You are encouraged to learn about HBI-PAC and make an informed decision.

Why should I participate?

The views of political candidates at the local, state, and federal levels affect the way we operate and how you serve our customers every day. Investing in HBI-PAC is an impactful way for colleagues to work collectively to support pro-banking candidates. When making an individual contribution, candidates may not know why you supported them, or which issues matter to you. By combining our contributions in HBI-PAC, we leverage the strength of our shared voice to stand up to policy threats that impede our Purpose by backing the election of public officials who value the role of regional banks in making people’s lives better.

What if the PAC supports candidates (or political parties) I disagree with?

HBI-PAC members may not agree with all the contributions made by the PAC due to its nonpartisan approach. We support candidates from both major political parties, and occasionally independent and/or non-affiliated candidates. HBI-PAC contributions are made in alignment with our values, and we are focused on supporting candidates who know and understand the critical role of the banking industry, regardless of partisan affiliation.

Does the HBI-PAC participate in presidential elections?

No. HBI-PAC does not engage in presidential elections. HBI-PAC contributes to state and local elected official candidates, and at the federal level, to Congressional candidates and PACs.

Is HBI-PAC a “Super PAC” or “dark money”?

No. HBI-PAC is not a Super PAC and not a type of so-called dark money. HBI-PAC contributions are made and fully disclosed in accordance with all applicable federal, state, and local laws, and all contributions directly support either candidates or committees that are required to disclose their contributors.

How will my HBI-PAC membership make a difference?

Every colleague who joins HBI-PAC, regardless of contribution size, becomes an important part of the team. While the individual voter is seldom powerful enough to present a particular viewpoint, an employee-funded PAC composed of many individual voters has a better chance of being heard and respected. Together, we can position Huntington to successfully navigate the challenges and opportunities of the ever-changing political environment by helping to elect candidates who are champions of the issues important to us and the entire banking industry.

Huntington Colleagues' Good Government Fund Provides a Strategic Advantage

Fueled by the support of eligible colleagues across the franchise, the Huntington Colleagues' Good Government Fund enables meaningful, transparent, and publicly accountable political participation. It provides a way for us to unite in support of elected officials who understand the critical role Huntington plays in the communities we have the privilege of serving. HBI-PAC amplifies our political voice in supporting qualified, responsible candidates across the political spectrum.

The partisan pendulum swings back and forth, and with our members' consistent support, HBI-PAC is empowered to make contributions to those candidates who believe in our mission, share our Purpose, and support a thriving financial services industry. Accountability and transparency are critical to our efforts. HBI-PAC contributions are made in accordance with all applicable federal, state, and local laws, and all contributions directly support either candidates or committees that are required to disclose their contributors.

We know that in times of heightened political interest there is an increased risk of unbalanced public policy that can impact how we support our communities and the innovative financial solutions we can offer.”

Steve Steinour, Chairman, President, and CEO

Political Action Committee (HBI-PAC) is a nonpartisan political action committee dedicated to promoting the business interests of Huntington Bancshares Inc. through support of pro-business and pro-banking policymakers at the local, state, and federal levels.

Only U.S. citizens and permanent resident aliens (i.e., 'Green Card' holders residing in the U.S.) may make, or be solicited for, contributions.
